

Northcross Healthcare Teams up with Habitat for Humanity

“Building Hospitals, Building Homes”

Northcross Healthcare is not only responsible for managing hospitals but building homes for those in need. A gift from the Northcross Foundation is making it possible for Northcross employees across the country to work with local Habitat for Humanity chapters to build four new homes.

Hospital employees are the volunteers building the homes for families. The houses are being built in areas where Northcross hospitals are being involved in capital-improvement projects. The company is spending $1.3 billion for the major renovations.

“Above all else, we are committed to the care and improvement of human life.”
